

Membership Opportunities and Benefits

CommonWell Health Alliance® is offering two primary membership opportunities: Contributing and General Members.

Contributor Membership

Contributing Members are the foundation for the Alliance. This membership level, which includes the seven Founding members, provides the guidance and direction for the Alliance. Contributing member's participation allows you to quickly receive access to and benefits of CommonWell's standards and services as they become available. This level is intended for organizations that are committed to utilizing services developed through the Alliance.

Expectations

- Plan to support the design, development, application and deployment of technology that would implement and comply with CommonWell specifications*

Benefits

- Eligible to Chair, be a member of and vote in Committees and Working Groups
- Right to nominate and vote for representatives onto the Board of Directors, if Board seats become available
- Ability to participate and vote on substantive issues, policy matters and official positions within the respective Committees prior to final adoption by the Board
- All benefits given to General Members

General Membership

General Members play a vital role in CommonWell Health Alliance. At this level, members have the opportunity to propose revisions or proposals for specifications, test suites and design guidelines of the Alliance. This level is intended for organizations to share complementary perspectives and desire to contribute to the evolution of Alliance, its specifications and policies.

Benefits

- May attend and participate (but not have a voting role) in Committees and Working Groups
- May submit proposed revisions or proposals for Specifications, test suites, and design guidelines of the Alliance
- Have access to generally available technical support with regard to any then-supported Specification, test suite, and design guideline of the Alliance
- Have access to generally available support documentation and materials concerning any then-supported Specifications, test suite, and design guidelines of the Alliance
- License rights as specified in the Membership Agreement or as otherwise specified by the BOD
- Ability to subscribe to services offered by the Alliance*
